I received an Associate Degree in Criminal Justice from Gordon State College in 2000 while working at a local Sheriff's Office. I enjoyed my experience during that process, but it does not compare to the time I have spent here working toward my Bachelor's Degree. The respect and appreciation I have for the professors and staff are beyond measure. They have guided and encouraged me every step of the way, and I am honored to be a Gordon State graduate. I look forward to starting a new career putting the knowledge I have gained to good use in helping empower women who have found themselves in difficult situations. I am excited to see my son graduate high school in a couple of years and spend time on this campus that I love.
