Coming to Gordon State College is one of the best decisions I have ever made. The things I have learned here and the experiences I have had will stay with me for the rest of my life. When I first started at Gordon State, I was not really sure what I wanted to do for a career. I could not have asked for a better place to figure this out. I found the small class sizes and engaging teachers to make for an exciting and thought provoking atmosphere in which I was able to learn a lot about my strengths and weaknesses. Gordon State offered me a lot of opportunities to make the most out of my time there, and the Honors Program is perhaps the one I am most thankful for. The Honors Program allowed me to take classes with students and teachers who challenged me to be a better scholar. From Dr. Janssen's Honors English 1102, to Dr. Cox's course on the History of Christianity, to Dr. Wilcox's class on the genre of Romantic Comedy, each of the Honors courses that I was lucky enough to participate in taught me a lot about both myself and my subject area.

During the course of my studies at Gordon State, I decided that I wanted to become a teacher in the hopes of being able to give others the same opportunity for learning that my instructors at Gordon offered me. I hope to begin graduate school soon, and I would like to eventually get my PhD. I firmly believe that the school has given me a great foundation for whatever the future holds, and I know that I would not be who I am today without Gordon State.
