Majors: Consumer Economics General Business

Hometown: Peachtree City, Georgia

High School: Starr's Mill High School

I graduated from Starr's Mill High School in 2014 after growing up in Peachtree City, Georgia. Originally Gordon was not even on my radar. My mom talked me into going to Gordon and it was one of the best decisions I have made. The professors here are wonderful. They all take an interest in their students and give every student a fair chance. The study habits the professors teach us are extremely helpful. There is always something to do on campus, not forgetting to mention how beautiful the campus is. It is such a friendly, safe environment.

I came to Gordon planning to work on my Associate's in General Business and transferring. Within my first couple months at Gordon, though, I changed my major to Consumer Economics. I plan to transfer to the University of Georgia in Griffin. I learned that because so many classes overlap between a Consumer Economics and a General Business degree that I would only have to take an extra semester of classes to have a dual degree. In the end I decided to finish my Associate's in General Business at Gordon and plan on graduating December 2015. I hope to finish at UGA by May 2018.

I have not really decided quite yet what I want to do with my life. I would like to work for the government, specifically the Federal Reserve. I also would not mind working for a retail business where my degrees would be extremely relevant. I know that in the end I will go and do whatever it takes to make it the best life for myself that I can.
