Brief Bio:

The time I spent at Gordon State College is a very special time for me. I learned so much and the support that I had from the Honors Program was immaculate. While at Gordon I met some of the most amazing professors and students who helped guide and support me along the way. Some of my favorite memories of my four years at Gordon are times spent studying at the Honors House with friends and occasionally studying with professors. I will always remember the weekend Honors Conference trips, particularly our first year at the Undergraduate Honors Symposium when I brought home first place in the Humanities for my essay "Beauty and Laughter: The Philosophies of Helen Cixous." I especially will never forget all the support my art group and my novels gained from the Gordon community.

Since leaving Gordon State I have gotten married, going from Stephanie Hogg to Stephanie Hornsby. Also, I have begun the process of publishing my third novel and I intend to make Gordon State a stop along my book tour. Already I am looking to start a leadership team for the Georgia Chapter of Artistmecca, the art group I have been heavily involved in during my time at Gordon, and we hope to start up a community center within the next five years. I am absolutely thrilled to see where my life takes me next, but I will never forget the amazing years spent at Gordon State College.
