

Hometown: Monticello, GA

High School: Piedmont Academy

Brief Bio:

I am from a very small town called Monticello. I attended Piedmont Academy for fourteen years and graduated valedictorian of my class. I won many awards in middle and high school for having the highest averages in various subjects. In my senior year, I won STAR Student for my school and county. I was very active in the theatre and literary programs at Piedmont for five years. During that time, our teams won three state championships and several region titles. I also served as a trainer for the football team for seven years and played soccer for six years. Academics have always been my passion, and studying is one of my favorite pastimes. Aside from school, I enjoy watching movies, sleeping, and cats. I am rather fond of the Muppets and wish I could do something fun like puppeteering. I also dream I could work at Disney World and make people smile.

I am at Gordon to earn my BS in biology. I plan to continue studying elsewhere to earn a master's in chemistry and a doctorate in biochemistry. I think it would be rather swell to work at the CDC sometime in the future. I have a long road ahead of myself, and I will sing and dance my way down it.
