Major: Biology

I am Ornella Adeyanju Oluwole and I am originally from Lagos, Nigeria but I was raised in Ancona, Italy. I started my college experience in summer 2011. I am working on my bachelor's degree in Biology, and I will be obtaining my degree May 8th 2015. I am working towards getting into medical school to become a Physician. In Fall 2012 I was accepted in the Gordon State College Honors program. Along with this privilege I have had the chance to serve students as a Mathematics and Science tutor in the Student Success Center, a Resident Assistant in Residence Life, and Student Government Association President. Moreover, I joined different clubs and organizations, including Phi Theta Kappa National Honors Society, Tri-beta Biological Honors Society, and Toastmasters to improve my communication skills. All these experiences contributed to my selection to a Summer Enrichment Educational Program (SEEP), a pre-medical internship at Georgia Regents University/The Medical College of Georgia. Gordon has given me the opportunity to pursue my goals during my matriculation. I had the opportunity to become a student leader, which opened the door for me, to build professional and personal relationships with staff, faculty, and students. I have learned a lot at Gordon State College and I feel ready to take the next step towards my academic and professional career. I am forever grateful to all the individuals that contributed to make my student experience priceless!
